

Residual Current Devices

1. Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to establish the responsibilities of the Housing Trust and tenants' with regard to testing of residual current devices located in properties and common areas in order to satisfy compliance with legislation.

2. Policy

The Housing Trust complies with relevant legislation as well as the safety of all tenants. Testing of residual current devices is an essential part of maintenance.

3. Tenancy

Testing will occur regularly during the tenancy. Let us know if this has not been done on your property. A sticker is placed in the metre box indicating the work has been done.
